- A map of your garden should open and look similar to the page shown below. Use the “+” and “-” symbols to zoom in. You can navigate around the map by clicking and dragging.

- Most plots have the name (first or last) of the person who gardened in them last year. Find the plot with your name. You may have to zoom in quite a bit to see the names.
- Once you have located the plot with your name on it, click on the circle with a number in it.

- The panel on the right side of the page should populate with information about your selection. If you chose to donate earlier in the process, that selection should be visible in the panel, as well.
- If everything looks correct in the panel on the right side of the page, click “Checkout”.
